RESTING ON THEIR ARMS GREAT ARMIES IN FAR EAST INACTIVE

MILITARY OPERATIONS RENDERED IMPOSSIBLE OWING TO CONDITION OF ROADS—RUSSIA SENDING MORE TROOPS.

Military operations in Manchuria are awaiting drying of roads and plains, rendered impassable for artillery and even for infantry by recent heavy rains. Meanwhile correspondents at the front have only desultory canonading and unimportant skirmishes to record. The report that the railway station at Shinkhe had been retaken by the Russians and railway traffic with Mukden would be restored at once was erroneous, the place still being in the hands of the Japanese. The Russian government is hastening dispatch of troops to the far east to constitute the second Manchurian army.

FROM ST. PETERSBURG.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 21.—The rival armies are entrenched south of the Shinkhe river and forced to continue inactivity until the second ground dries.

A Mukden "dispatch" to the Associated Press reports Russians bombarded Shinkhe station and adjoining village of Tamtung, Japanese feebly responding. This news clears up an interesting point and shows Shinkhe station is not held by the Russians.

It has developed that after the Long Tree hill rout the Japanese were unable to remove number of cannon in addition to those left on the hill and which remained midway between the Russian and Japanese trenches. The guns were exposed to fire from both sides that it was impossible for either Russians or Japanese to get possession of them during daylight and repeated attempts have been made by both sides to secure the guns under cover of darkness. Up to the present Cossack detachments have succeeded in getting three of the cannon.

NONE ESCAPED

TWO HUNDRED COSSACKS WOUNDED ED IN CONFLICT WITH JAPS.

Mukden, Oct. 21.—Every man of two hundred Cossacks commanded by Captain Tougoulenoff, who, on Tuesday night, near Sandouping unexpectedly encountered a good sized Japanese force with machine guns, was wounded and every horse except Tougoulenoff's hit by bullets. Tougoulenoff, though mortally wounded, carried off one man behind his saddle, while the others managed to creep back to camp. Not one man was killed on the field. There is the greatest fear on the part of Russian wounded of falling into the hands of the Japanese. Russians being convinced that torture their prisoners.

AT PORT ARTHUR:

St. Petersburg, Oct. 21.—News from Port Arthur, brought to Chetoo by a junk which left Oct. 19, says a fierce bombardment which began Oct. 16 is still in progress without interruption. Many buildings have been damaged and ships in the harbor have been hit by shells, but the character and extent of damage is not stated. Japanese forces are now posted at Tiaoliteling. They have placed guns of large calibre on Injida mountain. Russians continue making sorties successfully and inflicting heavy losses on the besiegers, whose losses since commencement of the siege are said to have been 50,000.

WAR REPORTS.

Frederikshavn, Denmark, Oct. 21.—All vessels comprised in the Russian Baltic fleet surrendered into the North sea during the night.

Tokio, Oct. 21.—Military authorities have released a captured paymaster from the Russian cruiser Turke, who, 70 years old on account of his age, thirty-four Russian hospital attendants and twelve battle-maimed soldiers were also released and will be sent to the Russian consul at Shanghai. In the future probably the Japanese will release prisoners whose wounds are healed and who are incapable of further fighting.

SEIZED CUSTOMS HOUSE.

Mukden, Oct. 21.—The eighth Russian army corps has arrived. Karpatskin will make new plans immediately.

London, Oct. 21.—The Standard's Yentl correspondent, telling of the final stages of the Shinkhe battle says the Russians nearly succeeded in turning the Japanese right, isolating men sent to protect Oyama's right wing. He says it was the indomitable courage and energy of the Japanese infantry that saved the situation.

PEACE CONFERENCE.

Washington, Oct. 21.—In the court of two days the president will dispatch formal invitation to the powers to name delegates to a new peace conference to be held at The Hague. The powers are invited to suggest dates for meeting of the conference. Secretary Hay submitted a draft of the invitation to the cabinet to day.

TRADE REPORTS ARE BRIGHT

OPTIMISTIC VIEWS BY MERCANTILE AGENCIES

Demand For Staples Very Ac- tive—Iron and Steel Industry Given Great Impetus—Rail- roads Prospering.

New York, Oct. 21.—Bradfield's review of trade says: Good feeling, in some instances, closely approaching optimism, dominates the general trade situation, but the undertone is that of conservatism, and there is a general desire to avoid overtrading. Past reports of good wholesale trade are reflected in an increased spreading of the wheels of industry. Railway earnings turned the corner in August, the roads of the country showing a gain of a fraction of 1 per cent in gross and 5 per cent net over 1903.

Collectors continued to hold the improvement noted last week. The general jobbing demand the country over is most active in staples, such as groceries, shoes, clothing, hardware and similar lines.

The better demand for pig iron noted last week has gained in strength and has reflected in further advances in prices. Finished material does not show so much activity, but railways are buying material quite freely. Hardware is active in all directions. Metals are stronger, copper, tin and lead being fractionally higher. Lumber is quiet at the east, but there is considerable building being done at the west.

Whent, including flour, exports for the week, 1,000,000 bushels, against 1,250,000 last year; July 1 to date, 20,972,000 bushels, against 18,807,000 last year.

Cane exports for the week were 500,000 bushels, against 1,810,000 a year ago; July 1 to date, 9,816,000 bushels, against 17,031,000 in 1903.

DUN'S REPORT.

New York, Oct. 21.—Dun's review says: Trade reports are more encouraging each week, while a feeling of optimism regarding the future is becoming general. With its customary disposition to discount commercial prosperity Wall street has lifted the average price of sixty of the most active railway shares above par for the first time since May last year.

Carb exports for the week were 500,000 bushels, against 1,810,000 a year ago; July 1 to date, 9,816,000 bushels, against 17,031,000 in 1903.

INDIAN CONFERENCE.

Lake Mohonk, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Consideration of the liquor problem in the Indian territory was taken up at to day's session of the Indian conference. The first speaker was A. S. McKenon, of South McAlister, who was an associate of the late Senator Dawes in the original five tribes commission. Dr. Grant Evans, president of the Presbyterian seminary at Muskogee, I. T., endorsed emphatically the views expressed by McKenon.

O'BRIEN WON.

Baltimore, Oct. 21.—Philadelphia Jack O'Brien knocked out Jim Jeffords in the third round to night.

Milwaukee, Oct. 21.—Benny Yankoff, of Chicago, and Maurice Sayers, of this city, went six rounds to a draw to night.

COLLISION.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 21.—Seventeen persons are reported to have been injured in a head-on collision of two Missouri Pacific passenger train cars between Chetoo, Kansas, to night.

BETTER THAN PILLS.

The question has been asked—In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills?

Our answer is—they are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is so gentle and so agreeable that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. Then they not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and aid the digestion.

say about Cleveland and all for whom Cleveland stands.

"It has become very fashionable for so-called Cleveland 'Democrats' and all who are known as 'reorganizers' to sneer at and speak slightly of the leaders and principles of the Democratic party in the last two national campaigns while Benedict Arnold Cleveland delights to refer to them as inflicted with insanity. They want to 'reorganize' the party and bring the discordant elements together by including the several million voters who stood true to the principles of the party as enunciated by the national convention of 1896 and 1900 to declare that they were wrong and that the handful of party admirers who followed the lead of the arch traitor Cleveland were right in those two campaigns. That little nest of political vipers ought to go over bodily to the Republican party where they belong and where they would have gone long ago if they were honest, instead of pretending to be Democrats merely for the purpose of annoying and fretting the party. There is said to be honor even among thieves, but there is certainly no political honor attaching to Benedict Arnold Cleveland and his followers and honest, patriotic Democrats know fully and realize the importance of acting on that fact."

This is pretty good. "Political vipers" "Benedict Arnold Cleveland," and these are the very men who are in control of the party and wielding the gavel.

THE DEMOCRATIC WRECK.

(From the Chicago Chronicle)
Oakland, Cal., Oct. 14.—From this distance the political movements in the east have been watched with keen interest. The gold Democracy, which bore the brunt in two campaigns and resisted with its might the subversion of the country by socialism, was led to hope that the St. Louis convention would uproot that pest, purge it out of the party and replace Democracy permanently upon its old constitutional and economic position. There was only one way to do this. It was possible only by making a party to which socialists and financial empires could not belong, but which each would be compelled to repudiate. The ascent of the Democratic party into the atmosphere of public confidence after the civil war was slow and toilsome. It required almost a quarter of a century. It was achieved by the patient leadership of Seymour and Tilden, of Sanford E. Church and Hendricks, and a host of men who rejected all expediency and were willing to fight and fall for principle, to rise and fight again. It was fully accomplished under the leadership of Mr. Cleveland. The country trusted him and wanted to extend its confidence to his party. But the party rejected the overture and when he refused to follow it into heresy and folly it turned and rended him.

Its plunge into radicalism and its attempt to reconstruct a free society on its failures and disasters rather than to maintain it on its success and its health, forfeited the confidence of the people. The ascent had been long and hard. The descent was sudden and awful. Relief from the forfeiture of popular confidence was possible only by such a plain declaration for sound money and for the protective power of the courts over person and property as would be a definite repudiation of the errors and follies that alarmed the country in 1896 and 1900. Instead of this the St. Louis convention, under the influence of the heresiarch whom the party had followed as devils' trial after the mad mullah, refused to set itself right and made a platform to retain the allegiance of the forces that had made it a pest. No personality, however respectable, can take the place of a proper declaration of principles. Either the gold standard or the silver standard was right. Either Mr. Cleveland, Governor Flower, General Bragg, Palmer, Buckner and their hundreds of thousands of followers were right and justified in 1896 or they were wrong. Expediency changes and passes. Principle is permanent and eternal. The St. Louis convention should have said boldly that those gentlemen were right or that they were wrong. Either way would have properly expelled one element from the party and left it in an unmistakable attitude. But instead of doing this the convention invited both into a predatory partnership and arranged a campaign to consist entirely of an attack upon the official and personal character of the president of the United States. I decline the invitation.

It is charged that the president violates or intends to violate the constitution. The same men charged Mr. Cleveland with the same offense when he put his strong hand and will to the rescue of the public credit and saved the financial honor of his country. He, too, was charged with assuming the functions of congress. But then, as now, that charge is an argument for the election of a strong congress and not for the election of a weak president.

If there is less difference between the real Democrats of the country and the Republican party than there is between them and the party called Democratic who is responsible for it?

The campaign is made on the personality of President Roosevelt and the Philippine issue. But the second choice of the St. Louis convention, Hearst, before the fall of Santiago, had at the head of his group of newspapers in red letters: "Nail the

Distinctive New Styles in Fur Neckpieces.

Our splendid lines have been prepared as never before for an extremely busy season. Almost every possible need in furs—and this is undoubtedly to be a year for furs—can be supplied to the greatest satisfaction of every purchaser.

The styles in cloth jackets and tailored suits are so designed as to render indispensable for neckpieces.

Included in the hundreds of different styles now being shown in our displays of these smaller furs are many decidedly attractive novelties which are receiving their first introduction here.

TENNIS MATCH.

The finals in the tennis tournament to decide the championship between the girls of Illinois college and the high school will take place this morning at nine o'clock on the Y. M. C. A. court. The contest will be in doubles and will be between Miss Ruth Selatti and Miss Helen Ayers representing the college and Miss Hazel Brown and Miss Carrie Dunlap representing the high school. No admission fee will be charged and the public is invited.

HIGH WIND.

The large wheel which is used as an advertisement for the Bassett jewelry firm was blown down by the strong wind Friday noon. It was hurled into the street and damaged to such an extent that it will need considerable repairing before it can be put in place again.

AT NORTONVILLE.

Judge M. T. Layman and J. H. Hackett addressed the Republicans of Nortonville precinct Friday evening, when a most successful meeting was held and one in which much interest was aroused. The issues of the day were fully and intelligently discussed by the able speakers.

Rev. John Clough will deliver an address at Antioch church Sunday.

Democrats Admire Roosevelt.

Radical Democratic newspapers are forced to admit that President Roosevelt's letter of acceptance is a strenuous presentation of the issues from a Republican standpoint. Even the New York World and Denver Times commend the president's "keynote." The fact is, there is not a Democrat in the land who does not admire Mr. Roosevelt's direct way of going at things, and all would vote for him if they could at the same time retain their party organization. There will be no real regret among Democrats when Mr. Roosevelt is elected. He is ten times more popular with the mass of Democracy than Judge Parker is.

Retail Merchants Buy.

Reports from every city in the country tell of great activity among the retail merchants who are buying in stocks and preparing for a lively fall and winter trade. When the retail merchants are busy the country is prospering, for they depend largely on the working people for custom. Democrats who are howling calamity and hard times should retire to the Halls of Silence, al. Espanol, and immerse themselves until the campaign is over, lest they be engulfed by the Republican wave of prosperity.

LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATES

Messrs. Heinl and Fetzer Will Make Active Canvass of District.

Mr. Frank J. Heinl, of Jacksonville, who, with Charles Fetzer, of this city, has been put on the senatorial ticket by the election board that heard the Republican contest, was in the city to day. Mr. Heinl believes that the Republicans of this district are able to and will elect both candidates to the general assembly. "I have no fears from factionalism," said Mr. Heinl to day. "I have too much confidence in the good sense and loyalty of the party to believe that any one will vote against this portion of the ticket. We have only three weeks in which to make the campaign, but we shall try to get over the district and meet all the people. Down in our county we had considerable factional feeling some time ago, but that has all passed away. The nomination of Deenoe has healed all sores. There were a few of the anti-Yates fellows who wanted to hang back, but these have all come to the mark and the full Republican vote of that county will be cast for the entire ticket from one end to the other."—Springfield News.

DEATH RECORD

A short time since one of the fairest of earth's treasures passed away. Miss Hollie R. Williams died at her home of her parents, Dr. B. H. Williams and wife, near Hamburg, Calhoun county. She was born at Summit Grove, Calhoun county, July 4, 1886, and passed her whole life in this state, most of it in Calhoun county, with the exception of several years at the Woman's college in this city. While a student here she greatly endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact by her sweet, lovable character and amiable disposition. Typhoid fever claimed her for its own and she passed away after an illness of seventeen days. In early life she showed a love for her Heavenly Father and was ever a faithful attendant at church and Sunday school and while in this city she allied herself with the Illinois Woman's College Christian association. She united with Centenary church last spring and was baptized in the college chapel.

Her deportment was ever consistent and she never failed in any of her Christian duties and her death is a crushing blow to her family and friends.

The funeral was attended by her cousin, Miss Alice Williams, of this city, a large number of friends and relatives and loving remembrances in the shape of flowers were sent to the family by Dr. Harker and the young ladies of the college. The services were conducted by Rev. J. R. Sager of the Presbyterian church, and interment was in the family cemetery three miles east of Hamburg. Mrs. Sager presided at the organ and sang the beautiful solo, "Good night," and the choir rendered "Beautiful Isle," "Trust and Obey," "It is Well With My Soul" and "Shall We Meet Beyond the River?"

A great many lovely flowers testified to the esteem in which the departed one was held. The singers were Misses, Mary Barber, Stella Toulose, Myrtle Surgeon, Aurilla Anderson, Velma Nicholas and Lou Kincaid.

The bearers were: Messrs. Frank Royal, John Knight, Lewis Anderson, John Nelson, Lewis Mickle and John Winkler.

ATTENTION. MARCHING CLUBS!

All marching clubs, drum corps, bands and other Republican organizations are requested to meet at Armory hall at 7 o'clock Saturday evening, Oct. 22, ready to join in the parade, which will move from that point at 7:30 o'clock.

PARKER'S FAVORITE POEM

(Alton B. Parker is very fond of the poetry of James Whitcomb Riley.—Current Notes.)

Uncle David Bennett Hill's at Parker's house to stay,
To help him fix his fence an' to tell David how "Be heeble, now you are a candidate,
Or else they'll git the best of you,
that's jest as sure as fate;
Now don't send any telegrams, creatin'
further doubt,
Or Roosevelt'll beat you,
ef you
don't watch
out!"

"Wunst they was a candidate 'at thought he had a chance,
It he'd tell the people what he knew about finance;
Went up th' country with a holler
an' a holler,
When the voters were counted he was in the water,
Stick to what I tell you, or you'll amble up the spout.
Per Roosevelt'll beat you,
ef you
don't watch
out!"

"Wunst I wore a feather plume; I am a Democrat,
Till a cyclone from th' west just blew away my hat—
When they ast me what I was, I answered cool an' calm,
With another feather plume which read: "I Guess I Am."
Bet your life that David knows just what he is about—
An' Roosevelt'll beat you, ef you
don't watch
out!"

"Best be putry keeble how you talk about th' trusts—
If you want to roast one, better wait
till the hollers,
An' th' money question—don't have very much to say
As to plutocrats—remember Henry Garrison!
Stick right to a whisper, don't you never dare to shout,
Or Roosevelt'll beat you,
ef you
don't watch
out!"

"Have your picture taken—but be keeful what you wear—
Put on all the overalls an' look like
"county fair."
Take your little plunge into the Hudson
every day—
Keep back the water when you've anything to say,
Mind your Uncle David's suggestions never foul—
For Roosevelt'll beat you, ef you
DON'T WATCH OUT!"

THE REAL QUESTION

On the day of the issue of President Roosevelt's letter of acceptance—the day of the Maine election, by the way—the press reports noted a long visit to Judge Parker by David Bennett Hill.

It is probable, if not certain, that the two friends who "have drunk from the same cañon" throughout more than one campaign, discussed, thoroughly, one immortal saying of their well-beloved Thomas Jefferson, namely:

"IF A DUE PARTICIPATION OF OFFICE IS A MATTER OF RIGHT HOW ARE VACANCIES TO BE FILLED? THOSE BY DEATH ARE FEW; BY RESIGNATION, NONE." This is, indeed, for the Democrats, "a hard saying."

We did not take the Phillipses at will, and we cannot put them aside at will. Any abandonment of the policy which we have steadily pursued in the islands would be fraught with dishonor and disaster, and to such dishonor and disaster I do not believe that the American people will consent.—Roosevelt's Letter of Acceptance.

SAFELY THROUGH MOTHERHOOD WITHOUT PAIN.

What a wonderful message of hope and escape from suffering these words carry to the woman who is dreading the hour that shall prove her motherhood. "Remember her it is the first time God has blessed her; with what awe and mystery, fear the coming of the new life, but never doubt, it is casting its shadow before in the way of many painful discomforts? The hope held out in these words simply means that child-birth is a natural process, a process of giving and joy, stripped of its agonies and dangers because of the learned skill of man.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

is the name of the remedy which means so much to the expectant mother, that she can apply it herself and feel its immediate effect, which but foretells the pain and suffering which it saves when childbirth takes place. It successfully will convince you, their words of praise are found in our book, "Mother's Friend." Send for it.

BRADFORD REGULATOR CO.
Atlanta, Ga.

Wool from lambs fed on grain from birth contains more yolk or grease than wool from lambs which have had no grain previous to the fattening period.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Government Whitewash.
The Washington or government whitewash is made as follows: Take half a bushel of unblacked lime, slack it with boiled water, cover during the process to keep it steam, strain the liquid through a fine sieve or strainer and add to it a bag of salt previously dissolved in warm water, three pounds of ground rice boiled to a thin paste and stirred in while hot, half a pound of Spanish whitewash and one pound of clear glue, previously dissolved by soaking in cold water and then hanging over a slow fire in a small pot hung in a large one and filled with water. Add five gallons of hot water to the mixture, stir well and let it stand a few days covered from dirt. It should be applied hot, for which purpose it can be kept in a kettle or portable furnace. It is used by the government to whitewash lighthouses. A pint of this whitewash mixture, if properly applied, will cover one square yard and will be almost as serviceable as paint for wood, brick or stone, and is much cheaper than the cheapest paint.

The Brood Sow.
Many of the breeders would not think of offering a boar or sow for breeding purposes unless its mother was three years old and its father more than one year, says a correspondent of American Cultivator. They think also that the sow which has only one litter a year gets the fat in the interval between her farrowing to produce strong and thrifty pigs. They may do to fatten when she is not more than two years old, but after she is that age they do not consider them even first class for that, if she has but one litter a year. We would prefer that a breeding sow should have two litters a year, if we had to give away the fall pigs as soon as she had weaned them, and we would not accept as a gift a pig from a yearling sow or one that had not more than one litter a year if we wanted one for breeding purposes.

Wintering Cattle.
For wintering cattle I am a firm believer in the silo, says a New York farmer in American Agriculturist. I don't think there is anything else that yields as much good feed as corn silage. In the morning we feed each cow the silage she will eat up clean, with about two quarts each of bran and corn or oats ground, and a good feed of hay at noon. At night the feed is the same as in the morning. Our cows came out in the spring in due condition. We commence feeding in the fall, as soon as the pastures are short and keep it up until the grass is large enough in the spring so that the cattle are satisfied with what they get.

Feed For Horses.

Timothy hay is par excellence the horse feed, says Professor Curtiss of the Iowa experiment station in Breeders Gazette. This is the case largely because of its curling properties and its freedom from dust and mold. If clover hay or alfalfa of prime quality and free from dust and mold can be secured it is much more nutritious and more economical than timothy hay. Oat straw of good quality may be used for horses with excellent results. Whatever the ration used I would advise grinding the grain and feeding it mixed with cut hay moistened.

Silage For Dairy Cattle.
The feeding of silage very materially reduces the cost of producing dairy products because fewer acres of land are required to keep a given number of cows, less work and expense are needed to prepare cows for feeding, and last, but by no means least, cows can be made to produce much more during the year by having them fresh in the fall and feeding silage in the winter.—C. P. Goodrich in American Cultivator.

Sheep and the Soil.

Sheep are the renovators of the soil. They keep down weeds that would cost a great deal of time and money to get rid of in other ways. The health of the country is much better where they are used as a part of the farm crop. Weeds that would be allowed to decay and rot, which we all know brings sickness and death to the human family, are readily eaten by them.—Farm and Ranch.

White Holland Turkeys.

One cannot select a better variety for all purposes than the White Holland, says a New York farmer in American Agriculturist. They grow to the most profitable sizes and dress beautifully for market. Their light, plump feathers add to their appearance, while pinfeathers show less than in darker varieties.

Young Versus Old Hogs.

The Oregon station fed two lots of hogs. One lot was eight months old and the other mature. To make 100 pounds of gain in the young hogs required 225 pounds of ground wheat while in the case of the mature animals it required 551 pounds. In other words, it took 30 per cent more grain to produce the same gain in the mature as in the immature ones.

Depth of Harrowing.

When ground can be fitted for seeding to grass after a summer crop without use of the breaking plow the harrowing should be no deeper than is necessary to give a clean surface and enough fresh soil to cover the seed. Firmness of the soil is wanted, so that the moisture can rise to the seed.

Feeding Lambs.

Wool from lambs fed on grain from birth contains more yolk or grease than wool from lambs which have had no grain previous to the fattening period.

THE POTTSVILLE BANK

Government Whitewash.
[Copyright, 1904, by T. C. McClure.]

I was one of the stockholders of the Pottsville bank, and one night at midnight I was awakened by some one laying a hand on me and whispering in my ear: "When I opened my eyes I found a light in the room, and bending over me and having a pistol in his right hand was a man whose face was hidden by a black balaclava mask. It was half a minute before I got my full senses, and then I heard him saying: "Make no outcry or you are a dead man! You must get up and dress."

The lamp had been lighted, and the door leading out into the hall was wide open.

Such a thing as burglary was almost unknown in the annals of Pottsville, and to wake up from a sound sleep and find a couple of burglar in my room made me dumb with surprise.

"You must dress and come with us.

Your wife is sound asleep, and if you wake her up you must take the consequences. Come, now; we are in a hurry."

The hall door was slightly ajar, and as we passed through it and outdoors I saw that entrance to the house had been gained by cutting a panel out of the door. We walked straight down to the gate and out of it and turned to the left and when quite clear of the grounds came to a horse and cart in the keeping of a third man. As we halted, the tallest of the trio said:

"I am glad to see that you are no fool. If you continue to act sensibly all will be well."

"But what does this mean?" I demanded.

"It means that we want the money in the Pottsville bank and that you are to help us get it."

"Never! If that's your game, you are left."

"But you will help us!" he exclaimed, and there was a sort of hiss in his voice that reminded me of an angry serpent. "Yes, you will help us, or your wife will never see you alive again. Into the cart with you!"

I obeyed the order, and two of the men took seats beside me, and the other vanished in the darkness. The men with me lighted cigars and offered me one as we drove away. I shook my head, and the tall man said:

"Just as you wish. You know Chapman, cashier of the bank, of course?"

"Yes."

"He alone has a key to the vaults. We can't get into his house on account of the burglar alarm, and you must call him out. We will accompany you to the house and stand by you while you ring the bell. Chapman will probably call to you from the window of his room. You must tell him that there is something wrong at the bank and get him to dress and come down. His wife is away, and so we have everything in our favor. You may think to play us a game. If you try it we will kill you offhand. Now, come on."

We took the middle of the street, and the men walked on each side of me, and each one of them carried a pistol in his hand.

When we reached Chapman's house we softly advanced to the front door, and as I rang the bell the men posted themselves on either side.

Up went a second story window at the first ring, and Chapman put his head out and asked what we wanted. I replied that there was trouble at the bank, and without asking for details he speedily dressed and came down. The men had him in a moment, as he was as completely taken by surprise as I had been, and had he made any struggle he would have been roughly used.

The thought that he must give up the $40,000 lying in the vaults gave him a desperate feeling, but he restrained himself and hoped that something might occur.

Not a soul did we meet as we walked to the bank, but when almost there a stray dog came running up to us. One of the men gave him a kick, and he ran howling away, but, unnoticed by anybody, he spoke back and entered the building with us. The first move made after we entered was to pull down the curtains and strike a light. When we could see to move about, the tall man said to Chapman:

"You have the keys, and I want you to open the vault. We're after the money and don't want to hurt either of you."

Chapman looked around in despair, and then unlocked the door of the vault and pulled it halfway open. The two men crowded forward to enter, seeming to forget us for the moment, and one of them pulled a bag from under his vest and set the light on the floor.

All of a sudden, and with no seeming excuse for it, the dog, who had halted near the front door, set up a howl and came rushing back at us in a savage manner. We were all startled and upset, and in the confusion Chapman and I did a thing we were never able to explain afterward.

We hurried ourselves against the door and acted so quickly that neither of the burglars had time to fire a shot when we had them safer than in prison. All we had to do was to arouse the town and open the door. In the presence of armed men, and they came out humbly enough to go to trial and receive a sentence of ten years apiece.

The third man had not accompanied us to the village and the bank and therefore made good his escape.

As for the dog, he proved to be one of the village curs, but the Pottsville bank adopted him from that night on and saw that he wanted for nothing during the rest of his canine life.

MATHENY & LLOYD.

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago, Oct. 21.—Wheat—There was only moderate trade, but feeling at the same time was a little unsettled, and close was 2¢ higher for December, while May gained 1/2¢. Early tone was easy on general commission house selling, influenced to some extent by declines in outside markets and lower cables. Receipts from the two non-Western adverbs, the cash situation and the market, all later noted. At the decline shorts covered with considerable freedom and local warehouse interests purchased May, and the situation became stronger.

Corn—Fair trade, and better underdone, close showing December up 3/4¢, May 1/2¢ higher. Several of the larger commission houses were conspicuous in their purchases, and the market was gratified to interests which have sold freely of late. Early offerings were moderate. Small receipts urgent demand for cash article and decreasing stocks were among strengthening influences. Weather was favorable.

Oats—Stronger and closed 1/2¢ higher.

In early trading prices declined 1/2¢, but later advanced 1/2¢. A feature was strength of near futures, with lighter offerings. At the last the market acted in sympathy with other grain.

Fine Concert by Ellery's Band
Friday Afternoon—"On the Suwanee River" Was the Evening Bill.

Ellery's famous Italian band gave a magnificent concert at the Grand Friday afternoon before an audience of inexpressible proportions. It was an enthusiastic audience, however, and the applause that greeted each number showed the deep appreciation with which the concert was received. Mr. Ellery certainly has one of the greatest musical organizations in America, not excepting the great Sousa band. Their ability to interpret the best in music and their perfection and brilliancy in execution is apparent to anyone who has had the pleasure of hearing them.

This was the second visit of the Ellery band to Jacksonville, and on both occasions the attendance has been far below the just deserts of such a superb company of artists.

The conductor, M. Chiaravalloti, is indeed a remarkable leader, and the splendid manner in which his musicians respond to the wave of the baton shows the effect of efficient training and masterly direction.

Many of the leading musicians of the city were present at the concert and the high compliments paid to Mr. Ellery and his band evidenced the keen enjoyment of the program.

The horn sextette, the concluding number, was one of the features of the program, and the applause was sincere and hearty that the leader gave "America" as an encore. When the encore was given the audience showed the true spirit of patriotism (too often lacking in American audiences) by rising and remaining standing during the playing of the national hymn.

It is possible that the band will play a return engagement in Jacksonville during the month of April.

ALL READY
Big Rally to Day—Prominent Speakers to Be Here.

The first big rally so far planned for this campaign will be on to day, when the Republicans of Morgan county will gather for one of the old time demonstrations. In an effort to work up the necessary amount of enthusiasm, which is so hard to excite in the ranks and file of the political parties this year the committees have endeavored to make this occasion a county affair and in this gathering of the Republicans of Morgan county it is hoped to call together a representation from every district in the county. No effort has been made to go outside of the county limits and the meeting to day will be the Morgan county voters. Speaking will be held at 3 p. m. and at 8 p. m., and if the weather will not permit holding meetings in central park, the open house will be used for both meetings.

Prominent speakers will be here and among those who are expected will be ex-Senator Wm. E. Mason, Col. Frank O. Lowden, Assistant United States Attorney General Judge J. G. Thompson, Congressman J. V. Graff and Congressman C. H. Fuller.

A big parade is planned for 7 o'clock which will move from the Armory hall, and this parade will be concluded by a brilliant display of fireworks, which will be one of the old style demonstrations. The following clubs will please take notice and meet at Armory hall at 7 o'clock sharp:

Deeneen Drum and Bugle corps, Roosevelt-Deneen club, German-American Roosevelt-Deeneen club.

Morgan County Colored Republican club and all other clubs and Republican organizations.

VISITORS WIN GAME

Illinois College Eleven Defeated by Score of 22 to 0 in Hard Fought Contest.

Christian Brothers college of St. Louis defeated Illinois college Friday afternoon by a score of 22 to 0. A heavy wind put an element of chance in all kicking tactics. Illinois was outweighed by several pounds. During the first half St. Louis made only one touch down on a fumble. Illinois presented a strong offense and defense and chances looked good for a tie at least, but in the second half one. Hood, who played quarter spoiled it all. Without doubt he was one of the fastest quarters ever seen on the local field. Twice he scored touch downs on long runs. On returning punts his work was unexcelled. Captain Brockmeyer of the visitors stopped many terrific line plunges.

For Illinois McKinney at tackle, was easily the star and received well earned applause. His work compared favorably with any shown here. He broke through the St. Louis line repeatedly and tackled the runner for a loss. McKinney was discovered in the Freshman-Sophomore game last year and this is his first year on the varsity. Hard and consistent practice has made him capable of standing a hard game. Not only was he good on defensive, but he made several 10 yard gains through the line. McDonnell played a good game, although handicapped by an injured knee. Harmon and O'rear as usual were in every play with excellent effect.

The visitors showed the effect of steady training. Their men are kept in condition the year round, while Illinois has no such advantages. A point in which they excelled was in helping their runner through the line. They never neglected to assist with push or pull. This little matter netted them many yards. In punting St. Louis had considerable the best of it, owing to the rapid returns of Hood. Neither side was ever sure of first down and the ball was continually changing hands.

THE GAME.

Illinois kicked off to C. B. C's forty-yard line. They advanced the ball about thirty yards by line plunges. The Illinois line was some time getting used to the visitors and was terribly weak at times.

C. B. C. fumbled and the home team took the ball at the fifty-yard mark. Harmon made first down and Illinois fumbled, a St. Louis man getting the ball. They made first down. On the next play McKinney tackled for a loss and C. B. C. was forced to punt. Due to the heavy wind, the ball went over the line and Illinois kicked out from the twenty-five-yard line. Hood brought it back to the forty-yard mark, where O'rear got the ball on a fumble. On a delayed pass McDonnell made forty yards through left tackle. McKinney made two good gains. McDonnell advanced the ball ten yards. They lost the ball on the thirty-yard line on a fumble. C. B. C. punted to the forty-yard mark. Illinois advanced to the thirty-yard line again, where C. B. C. held for down. By a series of long and short runs worked the ball to the one-yard line. St. Louis hit the line desperately for three times, but Illinois presented a stone wall and the ball went over. O'rear by an end run placed the ball out of danger. C. B. C. held on the fifteen-yard line. They advanced five yards and on a fumble. Punting got the ball and scored a touchdown. Try for goal failed; score, 5 to 0. C. B. C. kicked off and time was called soon after near the center of the field.

SECOND HALF.

St. Louis kicked off to Illinois, who made no gain.

They punted and C. B. C. returned after two downs. Harmon made first down, but Illinois was forced to kick soon after. The ball was kicked back and forth and finally Hood caught it on the forty-yard line and scored a touchdown. Goal was kicked; score, 11 to 0. Illinois kicked to C. B. C. who were forced to punt. McKinney advanced the ball ten yards and after a few more gains C. B. C. got the pigskin on the thirty-yard line. They attempted to kick, but McKinney blocked it for a twenty-yard loss. On a second attempt the ball reached the center of the field. Illinois began to hit the line hard, but Brockmeyer made several magnificent stops and the ball went to C. B. C. on the forty-yard mark. After a battle of punts in which St. Louis was the gainer Wynne was sent over for a third touchdown. Goal was kicked; score, 17 to 0. The ball was kicked off again and on a quarterback run Hood circled right end for another touchdown. Goal was missed and the score stood 20 to 0. The ball was put in play again and time was called with the ball in Illinois possession on the forty-yard mark. The lineup: Illinois—Wylde, left end; McKinney, left tackle; Ward, left guard; Scott, center; Williams, right guard; Cowdin, right tackle; Conover, right end; Brown, quarterback; Harmon, left halfback; O'rear, right halfback; McDonald, fullback; St. Louis—Janney, left end; Kyle, left tackle; Wynne, left guard; Fleming, center; Barlow, right guard; Harvey, right tackle; Brittingham, right end; Hood, quarterback; Brockmeyer, left halfback; Schultz, right halfback; Reitman, fullback.

Summary: Touchdowns—Hood (2); Penning, Wynne. Time of halves—Twenty-five and thirty minutes. Referee—Wilber and Vickery. Umpire—Vickery and Wilber. Linesman—Stubblefield. Score—20 to 0.

SOUTH SIDE CIRCLE.

The South Side circle met Friday afternoon at the pleasant home of Mrs. T. H. Buckthorpe on South Main street. A very interesting paper was read by Mrs. M. E. Lane on the subject of "Biblical History."

Scriptural quotations were passed around among the members and these were read after the discussion which followed the presentation of the paper. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. Weber on South Main street, and the leader will be Mrs. John Goltra, who will discuss the subject of "Canada, Geology, Zoology and Vegetation."

ODDS ON ROOSEVELT

New York, Oct. 21.—In the election betting to day the odds lengthened in favor of Roosevelt, both as to the general result and as to the result in this state. Charles H. Marshall bet $1,000 to $500 that Roosevelt will carry this state. He also offered to bet $2,000 to $1,100 that Roosevelt carries this state and will get 20,000 plurality in New York state. Allen, McGrath & Co. bet $2,00 to $500 with Max Borg that Roosevelt will be elected. T. G. Hemming bet $10,000 to $2,500 on Roosevelt. T. H. Dorey taking the Parker end. There is very little Parker money in sight.
